MA AND PA GREEN CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The Crossfield Community Hall was ablaze with light and many happy faces on Wednesday, October 15, as it welcomed in its doors a very fine couple—Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Green, lovingly known to all as Ma and Pa Green.

Charmingly clad in an orchid afternoon gown with tea rose corsage, Mrs. Green and her husband of fifty years standing, received their guests at the head of the stairs and listened with appreciative thanks to the good wishes bestowed on them. After the hall was filled, Mrs. Chas. Fox, as program convener, opened the ceremony with "O Canada." Mrs. Fox welcomed the guests to the golden wedding ceremony, which so few couples are privileged to celebrate and on behalf of those present extended special greetings and best wishes for continued health, happiness and good luck.

Miss Helen Edgar sang "My Best to You," which was followed by a piano solo by talented Lillian Aldred. Neil Ruddy captured a hearty applause when he gave the reading "When Pa is Sick." Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Scholfield each delighted their audience with pianoforte solos. Millie Smart pleased those present with two vocal solos, whilst Walter Hurt and his accordion received a great ovation. Mrs. Bert Lilley gave as a reading, "The Troubles of Robert Reece," who knew so many poems but one day forgot and jumbled title after title in pleasing rhyme. All participants in the program were encoined.

Mrs. Fox then proceeded to break the audience into groups—those married one to 10 years, 11 to 20 years, and 21 to 30 years and over. Each group had a captain, namely: Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. O'Neill, Mrs. Lilley and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, respectively. Each group composed "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" of the honored couple, using song titles from the time they were kids in the "Little Red School House" and on down the "Long, Long Trail" till "Silver Threads Were Among the Gold," etc. Occasionally humorous song titles, which blended with the story of the years, brought howls of laughter from the crowd, as the captains read in turn their individual "Green Story."

The assembly were then invited to lunch in the basement, where gold horse-shoes and large gold 50's held sway on all the pillars. The tables were graced with spray mums in gold and large giant gold mums, given by Rebekahs and Odd Flows, two candleabra, and two beautifully decorated wedding cakes trimmed with gold leaves were symbolic of the golden anniversary. Mr. Chas. Fox was director of ceremonies and gave a pleasing resume of the lives of the Greens in Canada, arriving in 1926, farming for R. T. Amery for 13 years, moved to Carstairs in 1939 and back to Crossfield in 1945 when he bought land east of town and became a neighbor to Chas. Fox and many others. He spoke of the merits of the happy couple, who had faced many adversities through life but who always came out with chips up and a welcome for everyone pinned on their hearts and home.

Present were, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes from Dixie, Wash., the latter being a daughter of the honored guests. Mr. Barnes spoke briefly on their behalf; at the pleasure of being able to attend the ceremony and how delighted he was in Alberta's fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Beerman from Ritzville, Wash., cousins, also bespoke their pleasure in attending. Also at the bride's table were Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Farrell, daughter, Mrs. Everett Green and son, Dale, from Calgary. Also present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Amery, Mr. and Mrs. McCrimmon, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. Story and Mr. Cochrane, from Carstairs came Mr. and Mrs. Farrell.

Mr. Green in accepting a purse of silver presented by Mr. Fox on behalf of those present, voiced a sincere thanks for his wife and himself. He voiced his sentiment for both Crossfield and Carstairs districts and did not forget to mention the love he held in his heart for the late Tom Amery, who had taught him a lot about farming in the U.S.A. when he was a young boy starting off in life, and how much he treasured his memory. He invited everyone to visit them in their home at any time as he closed his remarks.

Many useful and beautiful gifts were opened after a delightful lunch was served which climaxed the evening's activity.

Sincere thanks is given Mesdames J. and W. Aldred and Mrs. E. Farrell who convened with their willing helpers to make the evening such a success.

FAT BOY DIET

How To Shed Excess Flesh And Like It

By ELMER WHEELER

This is the story of a Fatso in his 40s who bounced up to 230 pounds, lost his pep, vigor, sex and honeymoon figure.

Then got incensed when a fresh clerk sent him to the Fat Men's Department for a shirt and a medic ridiculed his gallery of calories—so angry that he took off 40 pounds!

I've read a lot about why us fatties get fat. Real scientific stuff. Some doctors say the real reason is due to breakdown. We eat to have something to do.

Other diet experts say insecurity in life prompts us to over-indulge. They claim this is inherent in us from babyhood when we rushed to our mother's breast at the first sign of fright.

Of course there are some people who think I got fat because I ate too much food and that I ate too much food simply because it tasted so good.

BEFORE the Lavish '40s (not my 40s—the 1940s), dieting was always easy for me. I was an expert at it. Why, I used to practice at dieting three or four times a year!

After every lux vacation, after every gall bladder attack, after every insurance rejection, before each Thanksgiving dinner, I dieted.

Then the Boom sneaked up on me.

Life was gay, parties numerous, food and liquids generously offered in the Feverish '40s.

MY NECKBAND, once a neat 16, went to a tight 17.

Well, that didn't worry me. I just took this as proof that wartime shirts weren't shrink-proof like the prewar ones had been.

I went into a shirt store to complain about it. A fancy clerk measured the neckband on my shirt and assured me it hadn't shrunk, and that I was now a neat 18!

"YOU'LL FIND size 18 in the Fat Men's Department," he said, definitely pointing the way with a well-manicured finger.

I was halfway there before the full force of what he had said struck me. I did a slow burn.

Old "Muscles Elmer," former athlete at the "Y," Eagle Scout, shunted off to the Fat Men's Department.

ALL LIFE left me. My walk, or rather wobble—I can't bring myself to say waddle—slowed down.

I was so ashamed I almost lost my appetite. Almost.

Even so, I made myself the old familiar, easy promise. Tomorrow I'll start dieting.

Sure, tomorrow's the day again.

At Canadians' Own Request

Planned saving became a patriotic "must" during World War II as the years of conflict dragged by. People who had never saved money before found it possible through the succession of Victory Loan and War Savings campaigns, to lay aside money. This was done easily by those in industry and on other payrolls through monthly deductions but many thousands of Canadians without this advantage also learned to save money systematically. They began it "to help the war effort" but soon, as the nest-egg grew, began to appreciate this method of attaining a financial objective.

When the war finally ended, a surprising number of Canadians found that they wanted to continue systematic saving. They liked the method of saving in bond units because they had discovered its advantages through the long series of Victory Bond drives. Bonds were good security in the event of need of a temporary loan. They were not as accessible as other savings but cash could be obtained if necessity arose. If it did not, the gradual addition of bonds built up a safety factor for the rainy day, for retirement or for purchase of a home, farm or equipment. It was like watching a wall grow, brick by brick, but this was a wall of financial protection.

The post-war period resulted in many requests for continuance of Savings Bonds. In many instances, the requests were made through chairmen and members of local War Savings and Victory Loan committees which disbanded with the war's end. These men and women passed on the recommendation through those they had worked with in the provincial committees and, in turn, it reached Ottawa. The requests were so numerous that favorable consideration was accorded the proposal and in October, 1946, Canada Savings Bonds, Series One, was offered to the public, and each October since a further series has been initiated.

Bank of Canada was charged with the responsibility for the first and succeeding Canada Savings Bond issues on behalf of the Finance Minister. Arrangements are made for an advertising campaign each year similar to the promotion that brought the Victory Loan issues to the attention of the public but without the local committees as these Savings Bond offerings are not so much a national patriotic drive as they are an opportunity for the individual to continue or start a personal savings plan.

Canada Savings Bonds are provided in convenient and easily attainable denominations, consequently are favored by both young and old and by all income groups. Their popularity and usefulness is attested by the fact that nearly a million CSB transactions take place each year. Immediate cashability, in event of need, is one of the popular features of Canada Savings Bonds. While maximum purchase is limited, each member of a family may purchase amounts from $50 up to the maximum allowed of each issue. Each bond bears interest coupons providing an attractive rate of earnings on savings.

Again this month a new series of Canada Savings Bonds is being offered, the seventh. They are available either by payment in full or by monthly instalments or other arrangements through banks, loan companies and investment dealers. In many instances firms arrange payroll deductions to assist employees desiring to acquire bonds. As everyone has something or someone to save for, we anticipate Canada Savings Bonds will attract many more buyers this Fall as appreciation of this savings plan grows and grows.

Note and Comment

The average rainfall in Alberta from May 1st to July 31st was 8.68 inches. The average for the same period last year was 10.21 inches.

About 113 million bushels of grain, of which 103 million is wheat, was shipped through British Columbia ports, creating an all-time record for west coast shipments.

A Baseball Legend

The New York Yankees, champions of the American League and of the world, as a result of their victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers, in this year's World Series, remain a baseball legend in America and all over the world. Even those who are not Yankee fans, and who pulled for the Dodgers in the recent series, must admit that the Yankees have, as the slang expression goes, real class.

Perhaps, the Yankees demonstrated their true ability more clearly in the last days of the pennant race this year than in the World Series. Playing tougher opposition than the Cleveland Indians, who threatened to capture the American League pennant, the Yankees came through with brilliant baseball, often winning the crucial games by shut-outs or one run. In other words, when the chips were down, the Yankees produced.

There can be no doubt that the Yankees have dominated the baseball scene in the United States for the past decade, and even longer. Even when Joe Louis was in his heyday as a boxer, in the 1930's, there were cries of "Break up the Yankees!" At that time, however, a lot of fans accused the Yankees of being a lucky team. But that accusation does not stand up in the light of the happenings of the last 10 or 15 years. The Yankees are a great team, have become almost a legend, by coming through in championship form when the chips were down.

New Cars for 1953

Reports from Detroit indicate that the automobile industry is getting customer-conscious and will make a strong bid to attract buyers in 1953. It is beginning to look as if the big automobile producers will make more changes in next year's models than in any year since the end of World War II.

Chrysler is expected to put its new cars on the market in October and it is understood that there are major changes in the body designs of all four: Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler. Dodge is expected to come out with a new V-8 engine, 140 horsepower.

General Motors is offering air-conditioning units in the new Cadillacs and Oldsmobiles. Both Buicks and Chevrolets are expected to change to the V-8 type engine.

Ford expects to introduce new cars in November. While extensive body changes are not expected for the new Lincoln, Mercurys and Fords, the Mercurys and Fords may have new and more powerful engines.

Hudson expects to offer a new body and also a new car in the light, six-cylinder field. Studebaker bodies are to be redesigned completely. Packard is offering power-steering and power-brakes.

In other words, it looks as though there will be plenty of competition as the 1953 season approaches. The accent, which has been on power in recent years, is turning toward comfort and the prospects are that there will be plenty of cars to go around.

Early Wheat Beats Frost

From the Winnipeg Free Press
A. W. Manchester, Jarvie, Alberta, farmer, has developed a strain of wheat which may be the answer to the short growing season in northern Alberta. He farms in a district 80 miles northwest of Edmonton.

He says his wheat called "Early Harvest" matures two to three weeks ahead of other crops seeded at the same time under the same conditions.

His wheat, developed by years of patient cross-breeding, heads out seven weeks after planting and yields 40 to 45 bushels an acre. Slower-maturing varieties used by Manchester yield 60 to 70 bushels.

Voice of the People

CURE FOR COMMUNISM

Today, there is such a fear of real democracy among us that few people are prepared to discuss the question of Communism in a rational way. There are two views in your September 3 issue, one typically absurd but the other is intelligent.

A U.S. correspondent gives the view that Communism is a calculated, long range program for a Chinese conquest of Europe. This is the result of reading too many comics.

H. L. Keenleyside, speaking at the recent Couchiching conference is more to the point. He said: "Communism is the bitter fruit of social injustice and there is only one intelligent way to combat it, and that is by doing away with its causes which are the miseries of the people, economic insecurity and the exploitation of man."

It was the tyrannical misery of the old order and complete refusal to offer the people any hope that led to the desperate social upheavals in both Russia and China. People took the only way out possible.

There is only one answer to Communism, no other. It is not ruin by a suicidal war with atom and bacteria weapons that only death can win and will solve nothing. It is the proof, by principle and peaceful example, which economic system affords people the greatest opportunity for the good life and intellectual freedom, the system of free enterprise or Communism.

In Canada, it means the utilization of our great natural resources for the common good instead of this grab in the interests of monopoly and vested privilege. Exploitation and poverty should be a crime. If this is done, Canada can be an example to the world in sanity. Are the opponents of Communism prepared to do this? They are not. Their solution is a new world war, the road to catastrophe.

J. LESLIE, Edson, Alberta.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH

by Russ Arnold

My Mother's Souvenirs

I used to tease my mother About the things she put away, But she just said, "I'll have them To reminisce some day."

A little bit of golden hair From each small baby's head: A little book she wrote in, The first words baby said.

Baby clothes with funny names, A battered mug—a well worn shoe; And later on, when school began She put away some school work, too.

And on the years she added more, Despite our teasing childish glee, She said, "You'll do the same, some day, If your a mother—wait and see."

And as I put away a curl, A memento for future years, I saw my mother's loving hands Tuck away her souvenirs.

And then her words returned to me, "You'll do the same—just wait and see!" —Beryl Rasmussen, Crossfield.

25 MILES OF PIPE TO BE LAID
FROM REDWATER FIELD

REDWATER — Work has been started on laying 25 miles of special asbestos pipe to carry salt water from wells in the Redwater field to three or four central disposal wells by the newly-formed Redwater Disposal Co. Cost of laying the pipe, which must be below the frost line, has been placed at approximately $1,500,000.

The pipe, shipped through from Port Credit, Ontario, is of special construction in order to withstand salt water action.

One of the problems of the Redwater field is said to be the amount of salt water brought up with the oil, which has to be put back into the ground. At present this water is taken by tank truck to the disposal wells, but the new company will lay a network of pipes from the treaters to three or four disposal wells. One is located close outside of Redwater, with others in the Simmons and Amella sections.

The network will be extended as the need arises. The company which has opened offices in Edmonton, is composed of representatives from several oil companies operating in this field.

Record Sized Potato
Weighs Five Pounds

BON ACCORD — Mrs. Earl Wyman reports that she harvested some record-sized potatoes. One potato weighed five pounds and others were over three pounds.

These large spuds were grown from seed eyes of the Columbia Russet variety. Mrs. Wyman stated that she got a plum cake full of these potatoes from one hill.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa,

Do you think a girl of sixteen should smoke? All of my friends do.

TEENAGER.

Answer:

Don't start smoking just because your young friends have picked up a bad habit. It is bad for your health and is expensive.
LOUISA.

Dear Louisa,

I met a girl while I was in school and fell in love with her.
She is all that anyone could wish
as a wife.

After we had been going together for two years we were married. I had not met her family until after we were married, as she worked in the city where I was taking my medical course and her family lived in another state.

I was very disappointed in her people. They not only seemed ignorant to me, but their standards of living were bad. In other words, I simply could not enjoy being with them. I could only marvel that a girl as dainty and with as fine a character as my wife has, could be related to such people!

Now, this is my problem: My wife has no idea how I feel toward her relatives as I would not hurt her feelings for the world, but I have been offered a partnership in her home town with an older doctor and she is very eager for me to take it. I feel that this would be a mistake and I should be very unhappy there, but how can I refuse to take it when she would like it so much?

What would you do if you were
I?
M. D.

Answer:

Well, first of all, I would be very honest with myself if I were you and try to find out if my wife's people were really as ignorant and unattractive as you think them to be or if you are being snobbish because they are not as prominent socially as you would like them to be.

After all, there are some mighty fine people in this world who can't afford fine clothes and expensive homes. They may not have a silver service but, on the other hand, they may be sincere, loyal people, who are kind and helpful to others.

Surely if you wife is such a fine person and loves her family so much, they must have some good qualities.

On the other hand, if they are rowdy, tough people who will interfere with your practice as a young physician, you will do well to get as far away from them as possible when you start your career.

LOUISA.

Four Years Without A Strike

General Motors President
Charles E. Wilson reports in the September Reader's Digest that GM's "progress-sharing" plan has given the company four strikeless years. The plan has a dual core:
(A) links an hour's wage to the cost of living; (B) it guarantees the worker an automatic annual increase in his hourly wage, assuring him that his purchasing power will keep pace with the nation's progress in industrial efficiency.
Scoffers once maintained that a cut in wages, when living costs went down, would meet opposition. Wilson says wages were lowered five cents an hour during 1949-50 when the living-cost index fell, and there was no walking out.

Think Rare Birds Have Offspring

EDMONTON — Prof. William Rowan of the University of Alberta's zoology department reported that at least one and possibly two of the almost-extinct whooping cranes were produced this Summer in the Peace River country of northwestern Alberta.

Prof. Rowan who completed a month-long investigation under sponsorship of the Alberta Government game branch said in a prepared statement that "there seems little doubt now that two whooping cranes were seen in northern Alberta early in August and that they produced at least one young and possibly two."

Naturalists believe there are fewer than 100 of the big birds alive today and some place the figure at less than 50.

A few days after becoming the proud owner of a new gas range, I paid a visit to my mother in the country. One morning at the breakfast table, I was expounding
the merits of my stove as compared to mother's old wood range.

My sister, who was frying hot-cakes in the kitchen, called "Mother, where is the lard?" Mother answered, "It's on top of the stove. My sister, who apparently hadn't heard, asked again,
"Where did you say it is?"

My young son, who had been busily filling his plate with syrup apparently oblivious to all our conversation, called out, "She says it's on top of Old Smoky."

I was embarrassed by my son's remark, which I know hurt my mother's feelings.

Husky Football Stars Visit Sick Children In Red Cross Hospital

Patients at Alberta's Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital were sure they were the luckiest kids in town Wednesday when members of the Calgary Stampeders Football team dropped in for a visit.

As sports' minded as any other youngsters, the patients could hardly contain their excitement when Les Lear, Ed. Champaigne, Stan Heath, Bob Mike and Sugarfoot Anderson made bed-to-bed and ward-to-ward calls. Cries of "Where's Sugarfoot?" preceded the party down the corridors as the youngsters vocally expressed their excitement.

Johnny Bright of the Stampeders was originally scheduled to join the party but as an appendectomy stood in his way, Les Lear brought along Bright's number "43" sweater and helmet and let the kids try them on. All were football stars for a time and their grins evidenced their thrill.

Report 121 Days Without Frost

The Federal government's experimental station at Lacombe, Alta., reported that this summer was one of the longest frost-free periods in 44 years.

The Central Alberta district enjoyed 121 consecutive days of frostless weather, compared with 77 days last year and 71 frost-free days in the summer of 1950.

The longest frost-free period in the station's history was in 1940, when there were 136 consecutive days without frost.

Easterners Help Complete Western Harvest

The near completion of harvest can be attributed, to a certain extent, to the more than 1,100 easterners who came west to help with harvest operations. According to figures released by F. H. Newcombe, director of extension, provincial department of agriculture, the number who came west this fall exceeded that of last year, when only 987 found their way out.

Some of the workers came directly from eastern Canada, Mr. Newcombe said, and others came to Alberta after first working in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, where the harvest was slightly earlier.

"This has been the first year in some time," he said, "that the supply of harvest workers has kept up with the demand. Very few requests for workers this year have not been satisfied."

The westward movement of harvest workers is ended, with the exception of "a few workers who may drift into the province after completing work in Saskatchewan."

He was taken to hospital where his condition was reported to be serious. The cow's horns raked his thigh and went up into his stomach.

Two Thieves Caught Early Sunday Morning

CROSSFIELD — At 5:00 a.m., awakened by noises at the front door of the Mardon and the bark of their dog, the Bailey family were startled by an intruder, who left hurriedly. W. Bailey phoned Police Constable Mansell, who arrived immediately.

A search started. Constable Mansell's quick thinking led him to the C.P.R. where the south-bound train was pulling in. There he accosted a stranger with two tickets for Calgary and took him in charge. Then he answered a call from the Baileys who had located an accomplice in between the Mardon and the Gold Storage.

Mr. Bailey grabbed the thief and sat on him till the police came.

Hank Frickes' Pool Room had been robbed of fifty dollars by the thieves but Hank was unhurt. Constable Mansell and Mr. Bailey took the culprits to Calgary immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fox spent Sunday at Red Deer, where they had dinner with the Buglers, former Crossfield residents. The Buglers, who are fine, send greetings to old friends.
